

Research Methodology Workshop Report 2023

Jnana Prabodhini's Institute of Psychology is affiliated to the Savitribai Phule Pune University, (SPPU), as a research centre. We acknowledge the transformation that social science research has undergone and endeavour to facilitate it. Knowledge of research methodology is central to conducting quality research. For every doctoral scholar, the journey begins after successfully clearing the selection interview. To draft a good research proposal, knowledge of research methodology and insight into every step in the research process is required. We organized a four-day workshop (16th to 19th April 2023) for 16 research scholars with this objective. Group discussion, presentations, and individual interactions with guides were encouraged during the workshop. Dr. Anagha Lavalekar, Dr. Sujala Watve, Dr. Meenakshi Gokhale, Dr. Alpana Vaidya, Dr. Santosh Walke, Dr. Pranita Jagtap, and Dr. Sucharita Gadre conducted sessions. Follow-up meetings with a guide were planned which helped students to present their research proposal.
